MAYOR'S MESSAGE

It was an honour to have been elected as Mayor by my fellow town councillors on the 1st May 2018. My wife and Consort, Kathrin, and I are very excited about the year ahead and we are looking forward to supporting and representing this wonderful town over the next twelve months. I would like to thank Councillor Yvette Morrison who has been a fantastic Mayor this past year and I wish her and her family all the very best.

It is three years since I joined the Town Council, and, in that time, it has been abundantly clear what a hard-working bunch our councillors are. Each brings their own unique experience and knowledge and I have thoroughly enjoyed being part of the team.

On a personal level, I have found our work around community safety to be especially rewarding. Developing our plans for flood and emergency planning and road safety has been enhanced by the experience and expertise of both community volunteers and councillors alike.

We are fortunate to live in a town that has so many wonderful events throughout the year and 2018 is no exception. As well as the excellent food festivals and street market, this year also marks two special anniversaries. It will be one hundred years since the end of World War One and preparations are well underway for the town to remember the sacrifice of millions of men and women during the conflict. It is also the 400th anniversary of Alcester Town Hall and there have already been numerous talks and open days to celebrate this special birthday.

My chosen charity for the mayoral year is Warwickshire Young Carers, an organisation that I've been involved with for some years now. It is estimated that around 5% of young people today are carers in some shape or form and that this affects their prospects for education, general wellbeing and future career prospects. I plan to hold some charity events this year which I hope will raise much needed funds and publicity for the great support that they provide to local youngsters.

The Town Council faces a number of challenges over the coming months. Work has now started in earnest on the Alcester Neighbourhood Development Plan. This is another excellent example of the Town Council and the community coming together and drawing on the skills and knowledge from within the community. The working group set up under the chairmanship of Councillor Mike Gittus continues to look at future options for the Greig Memorial Hall. We all hope to see a satisfactory outcome for this important community asset very soon.

Finally, we were all very sad to hear the news of the passing of Elle Neal-Sturgess in April. Elle was the wife of Clive and the Mayor's Consort in 2015-16. I know she will be greatly missed by many people in our town and we send our thoughts and best wishes to Clive and his family.

Cllr Andrew Foster – Mayor of Alcester

Clerks Corner

This is a very busy time of year for the Town Council with the new mayoral year starting on 1st May. At the Mayor Making event on 1st May, I was very pleased to oversee the election of the new Mayor, Cllr Andrew Foster and the Deputy Mayor, Cllr Gill Forman. Congratulations to both of them on their appointment. I am sure that they will do an excellent job in representing Alcester.

Just by way of reminder, all Town Council meetings are held in public and the dates and times are published on our website and notice boards.

Please note that the Council is run on a committee format so most of the Council business is done at committee level rather than at Full Council.

Broadly the workload is divided as follows:

Presidium- Finance, staffing issues, new projects

Planning Committee- All matters relating to planning applications

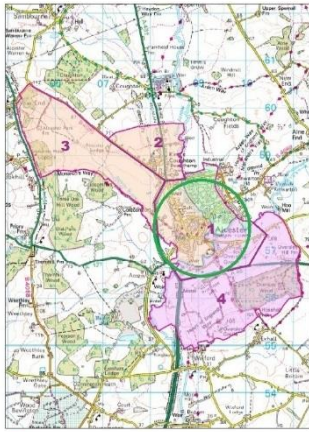

Facilities Committee- Matters relating to play areas, open spaces, cemetery and allotments

Community Care Committee- Community safety (flood and speeding), health & well-being, business and tourism and young people's services.

If you are interested, please come along to a meeting. There is a public participation session at the beginning where you can raise issues or ask questions. We hope to see you soon.

Vanessa Lowe- Town Clerk

Developing Alcester's Neighbourhood Plan

A new Steering Group, chaired by Wendy Mills, has been set up to develop Alcester's Neighbourhood Plan. Consisting of residents, town councillors and business representatives, all passionate about Alcester, they are organised into working groups to develop policies relating to the local Economy, Housing and other building, Community Facilities, Transport and Infrastructure, and our Natural Environment.

The Neighbourhood Plan area covers the parish of Alcester. It will look to the future and create policies which will cover up to 2031. There is a laid down process to follow and before the draft plan is approved it will be subject to independent assessment and a local referendum, giving the town's people of Alcester a chance to see it and vote on it. Once it is approved, Stratford District Council will refer to it when considering future changes and deciding on planning applications.

There have already been several surveys and consultations asking townsfolk about what they think are the current issues and changes they want to see. Stratford District Council's Core Strategy has also now been approved. These will be considered as Alcester's Neighbourhood Plan is drafted.

We want to protect our heritage and community whilst allowing incremental development and enhancement of our facilities. Our vision is that Alcester will continue to be a thriving town in which to live and work, and attractive to visitors.

If you require further information about the developing Neighbourhood Plan please email administration@alcester-tc.gov.uk.

Spring is here, and summer is round the corner. Allotment holders and gardeners across the Town are sowing seeds and plants are being planted- hoping for a bumper crop this year. As an incentive to getting your allotment looking at it's best the annual Allotment judging will take place on 13 July 2018. There is an Award for best kept allotment on each site. Also the Reg Grummett Trophy will be awarded to an overall best kept town Allotment. Will you be a winner? The awards will be presented at the annual Mayor's "Celebrating Alcester" evening later in the year.

If you do not have an allotment and are interested in renting one, please ring the Council Office on 01789 766084 or email reception@alcester-tc.gov.uk for details.

Bleachfield Street Allotment News

Work will soon start on improving the water supply for plots on the north side of the allotments. A noticeboard is now in place by the gate leading from Corinthian Court which will keep plottolders up to date especially those who do not have the internet. It is hoped a community shed will also be available soon. Any queries contact Steve Keeling by emailing stekeel1@aol.com. Fingers crossed for warm weather!

Abbey Site Re-Connected after 450 years

The work on the newly acquired Abbey Fields, at the rear of the Grammar School, continues to improve the access and nature walks available to the community of Alcester.

The latest addition is the provision of a newly constructed footbridge connecting the two halves of the ancient Abbey site.

During the winter months Councillor Mike Gittus set to work with hammer and saw, to re-connect the two halves of this nationally important scheduled monument.

The Abbey was founded in 1138 by the Botellers of Oversley, Warwickshire. The Abbey's many endowments included the Chapel of St James and St Peter, near Shaftesbury, Dorset, and the Manor of Blynfield in the parish of St James, North Dorset, which is known as the 'Manor of Alcester and Bec', together with a number of other churches and estates. In 1536 the ownership of the Abbey was transferred to Thomas Cromwell and dissolved.

Since this time the two halves of the Abbey site have been disconnected, until now.

Public access is welcomed throughout the Abbey site and there are entrances from

- The Nature Reserve, via the new footbridge
- School Road through the allotments
- The new cemetery on Birmingham Road

Cllr Mike Gittus

Planning Committee 2017-18

Meetings: The Planning Committee met on 18 occasions throughout the year, and considered 88 Planning applications, all of which are minuted (please see the Town Council website). Objections were made on 32 occasions. Site visits were conducted on 6 occasions, and public representation occurred at 10 meetings.

Applications of significance were:

- SIG Roofspace, Alcester Heath: Two applications were submitted, one concerned with changing the height of the storage, and another concerned with changing the layout of the roller shutter doors and increasing time on site. Objection lodged to the first application, but after a site visit, the proposal was agreed. Objection sustained to the second application due to concerns about noise, lighting and landscaping.
- Alcester Members Club, St Faiths Road: Change of use to a mixed use as Members Club with Bed & Breakfast and external works to facilitate the change. Initially an objection was made, but after a visit to a local similar development the proposal was agreed.
- Garages, St Faiths Road: Demolition of existing garage blocks and erection of 4 dwellings (with associated stopping up of highway behind 78- 84 St Faiths Road). Support for the proposal-improvement on the existing site, adequate parking provision and amenity space had been made and the development is in keeping with existing properties.
- White Lion, Evesham Street: An objection was made regarding parking and the new houses on the carepark – considered to be overbearing. Following a revised application, which was viewed more favourably, the developers appealed the original decision, and the appeal was granted.
- Rosehill, Priory Road: An objection was made due to the works being progressed without permission. The application went to SDC Planning Committee (West) and the proposal granted permission with conditions.

Letter from America.....

TWO ALCESTERS

I was raised on a farm 4 miles outside of Alcester, South Dakota, USA in the 1950/60's. My town had been founded in 1883 as the Chicago & Northwestern RR pushed west and was settled by Scandinavian and German Immigrants. Some of my Swedish great-great grandparents emigrated there in 1879, along with some of their siblings and families before Alcester was a town; they were farming the land. Prior to that, the area had been inhabited for over 200 years by the Sioux Indians (Native Americans), who pursued a nomadic life following the great buffalo herds of North America. The Sioux had originally lived in the woodlands of Wisconsin and Minnesota, but had been driven from their lands by other tribes which had acquired guns and other modern weapons from the French and English. The Sioux, however, learned the horse culture of the Southern Plains tribes and displaced the Arikara Tribe which had developed an agricultural society on the rolling plains of southeastern South Dakota. It is ironic that the iron horse (trains) of the American farmers displaced the tribe whose horse culture had displaced the tribe of farmers that had originally called my area home.

Between 1890 and 1930, Alcester grew and prospered as the local hub of farming activity as its farm products were sold all over the country. Alcester had two banks, an auditorium for meetings and social events, a hotel, four churches, numerous stores, a movie theatre, a city park with a band stand (well used in the summer months) and both a grammar and high school. Most buildings were originally constructed of wood and the streets were not paved; the population of the town never exceeded 1,000 souls. By the 1960's farming had become more mechanized, and the land more expensive to buy or inherit. The children were more educated and went to college, causing the population to decline as the young adults moved to the cities for employment. Alcester, S.D. went into a modest decline to 440 residents- until the automobile and nearby freeway commuting allowed non-farmers to move to the town to enjoy its friendly culture, civic pride, and quiet lifestyle. Today there is only one bank and a few stores, two restaurants, and the same four churches which are still well attended each Sunday morning. The schools, churches and most of the commercial building have been rebuilt with brick and mortar. The same large, well maintained, tree-shaded Alcester City Park has lost the bandstand; it still has picnic shelters and play areas for children and adults and has added a swimming pool. There is even a 9-hole golf course on the edge of town. Today over 800 people live in Alcester; it is more of a village, in the English sense of the word, than a town.

During a visit to England with my husband in July 2017, we met Julian and Veronica Stapley. They had been to "my" Alcester about 4 years ago. It was so wonderful of them to spend a day with us and bring us to "their" Alcester. It felt so strange to see the town sign outside of Alcester, England, (Julian stopped the car so I could take a photo) having only known until a few years ago of my Alcester, South Dakota. We were immediately impressed by both the age of the town and the vibrancy of the city life. The town center was a hub of activity, with numerous stores and restaurants catering to the local population. Our hosts showed us the Town Hall, with the carved date of 1641 and the seal of Alcester, where social events and civic meetings are still held. We walked around the town center, admiring the half-timbered buildings and the many beautiful flowers in pots and gardens. We admired the Princess Diana Memorial, the clock tower, St Nicholas Church, the red phone booths, the War Memorial, and the Gold Olympic winner statue. We were impressed with the area for a nursing home for retired people- it looked so inviting. It continued to feel surreal as I would see the word "Alcester" on signs as at the barber shop and post office. Outside of one house Julian was telling us how old it was and the current owner overheard the conversation and graciously invited us all inside to show us many special original features. What a treat that was! As we walked around the town, people that Julian or Veronica knew would say "Hello" to them. This is exactly what would happen in my Alcester! I would like to think that my Alcester will still exist in 300 years and that the civic pride of its inhabitants will be as evident as that which I perceived in Alcester, England.

We currently live in a suburb of Portland, Oregon and will be going back to Alcester, S.D. in October. I will be seeing many family members that still live there and am really looking forward to showing them the MANY photos I took of your Alcester. Thank you to Veronica and Julian for an absolutely wonderful day.

Linda Kolstad, Alcester, South Dakota

And maybe another.....Algester, Australia

G'Day from Brisbane Australia to all in Alcester, UK,

I am writing this to you all, as a long time foundation resident of a suburb known as Algester here in Brisbane. As a toddler living with my family, I watched what was then virgin bushland transform, as the suburb of Algester literally grew up around me. It was only in much later life that I spent the time, studying the history surrounding my home for over 40 years.

I thought it was appropriate to contact you guys to inform you of the marvellous connection our suburb has with your community of Alcester. It would also be good to research who the family was that migrated to Australia from the UK, that was responsible for the original naming. And I quote from Wikipedia:

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Algester,_Queensland

"...It was detached from Acacia Ridge and named in 1972, after the main road in the district. (Algester Road) The road's name dates from about 1910 when a local family formed it and gave it the name 'Alcester', after an English town. In 1968, Leighton Properties planned a suburban estate with the proposed name of 'Ridgewood Heights'. Whilst the estate's main access route retains that name, the Queensland Place Names Board, substituted 'Algester' in 1972..."

I close now by thanking you guys for your time and hope to hear from you with any information about who that family might have been. I also sincerely hope that a stronger or more official "brother-sister" bond could be forged between both of communities into the future. Cheers.

Robbie Cohen, Brisbane, Australia

ALCESTER MALE VOICE CHOIR – Singing is our passion

Judith Land BEM,
FRSA, Founder & Director of Music of the Alcester Male Voice Choir

We thought we would take this opportunity to tell you about our choir, who we are and what we do.

Who we are

Formed some 44 years ago by founder and current Director of Music Judith Land BEM,FRSA, the choir has grown to one of the largest and most respected in England with some 80 members. We are an English choir but there is a strong Welsh influence as Judith was born in South Wales and this is often reflected in the some of the pieces we sing.

What we do

We work hard and rehearse every Wednesday evening at the Jubilee Centre in St Faiths Road, and hold between 12 & 15 concerts a year in support of local organisations and over the years have raised thousands of pounds for others. There is also a social side to the choir and many new and lasting friendships are made.

Where do we sing?

Apart from the local concerts the choir has sung at many prestigious venues including The Royal Albert Hall, Symphony & Town Halls Birmingham, St David's Hall Cardiff, St Georges Chapel Windsor, and both Worcester and Ely Cathedrals. The choir has also toured throughout Europe

Like to join us?

Gentlemen who would like to join the choir would be made most welcome. There are no auditions, all we ask is that any new members commits to the weekly rehearsals and only when they and feel ready join in the regular concerts. We are a friendly choir and existing members help and encourage new members every step of the way. Whilst there is a dedicated recruitment evening in September new members are welcome at any time.

If you are interested in joining the choir or would like to discuss a concert then call Judith on 07886 139781

Lock Snapping Recently a number of burglaries have taken place locally where the offenders have snapped the door locks to gain entry. This involves breaking the cylinder in two allowing the lock to be manipulated and opened. This will release all the multi locking points around the door. Anti-Snap locks can be fitted to combat this type of crime. We advise you to check to see if your locks are anti-snap. There are numerous websites and YouTube videos on this issue. Here is one example of a website that will help explain the situation further - <http://www.locksmiths.co.uk/about/public/cylinder-snapping/>

Alcester is a relatively crime free area. We work together to keep it that way
